Brothers of the Auburn Chapter of Sigma Nu Fraternity provide a helping hand in Selma, Alabama, following tornado

Auburn, Alabama – One of the five points of Sigma Nu Fraternity's badge represents "The Helping Hand." The members of Auburn's Sigma Nu chapter put their helping hands into action this week by traveling across the state to help clean up tornado damage in Selma, Alabama. Ten chapter members provided chainsaws, pickup trucks, wheelbarrows, and, most of all, hands, feet, and strong backs to clean up downed trees and scattered debris.

Auburn Sigma Nu Lt. Commander (Vice President) George Turner participated and said, "It means the world to me that my chapter brothers would help out in this manner. The community of Selma is my home, and to know my Brothers cared enough to give up their MLK holiday to help my neighbors clear debris shows their heart and the Auburn spirit of the human touch and compassion for all."

Sigma Nu Fraternity was founded at the Virginia Military Institute in 1869. More than 260,000 men have become members of the Fraternity. The Fraternity's Mission is "to develop ethical leaders inspired by the principles of Love, Honor, and Truth; to foster the personal growth of each man's mind, heart, and character; and to perpetuate lifelong friendships and commitment to the Fraternity." The Beta Theta Chapter of Sigma Nu Fraternity was founded at Auburn University in 1890.
